ECONOMY IS NECESSARY

Don't Delay the Iceman Among Requests of Federal Food Board.

Hints to householders on the care and economical use of ice during the hot weather were made public by the Federal Food Board yesterday.

"The use of ice in the household in hot weather," the board said in its statement, "is of such assistance in preserv ing food and administering comfort that every effort must be made to see that families are supplied with their legitimate needs, but extravagance and unnecessary consumption of ice must be and sustained by the organized opinion insistently discouraged.

Labor Shortage May Be Felt.

Extremely hot weather, if it continues or many days, may find some of the ice organizations unable to properly distrib...te their ice, due to labor shortage, even though they have a sufficient stock on hand. For this reason it is of the utmost importance that all consumers of ice should be as economical as possi-ble in its use. The following suggestions will prove useful in the home in the conervation of ice:

"Put ice in refrigerator as soon as is delivered. "Keep the refrigerator in a cool place nd see that the door fits tightly.
"Do not open doors more often than

"Do not put warm food in a refrigera "See that the trap in the outlet pipe is ept closed.
"Ice should not be used in serving fruit nd sea food. They are cold enough in the refrigerator.
"Do not use more ice than necessary

"Avoid detaining the ice delivery man

"A greater saving of ice can be ac complished by commercial users who buy it in large quantities. Large tonnages can be saved by eliminating extravagance in its use by saloons, restaurant notels, clubs, soda fountains, lee cream makers and florists."

Army Contracts.

Capt. Vaughan was indicted ten days age for conspiracy to defraud the Government in connection with the awarding of contracts for the making of army raincoats. On the day he was indicted he pleaded not guilty, but next day changed his plea to guilty. Felix Gouled, a manufacturer, and David L. Fodell, a lawyer, were indicted at the same time. All of them are out on ball.

Capt. Vaughan has made a full statemade public yesterday certain parts of it in which Capt, Vaughan described how contracts for making large num of raincoats had been awarded to American Rubber Company, a subsidiary of the United States Rubber Company; the Hodgman Rubber Company, and the C. Kenyon Rubber Company.

Capt. Vaughan stated that before be ing commissioned in the army he was an employees of the Boston Woven Hose Company of Boston, and that one of sponsors when he applied for his co mission was Lincoln Green, vice-presi-dent of the American Rubber Company, Upon receiving his commission Capt. Vaughan was stationed in Washington. and had as his immediate superior Ar thur W. Lawrence, a civilian, who had been connected with the United States. THREE STARS BEAT WEATHER AT PALACE

Clifton Crawford, Grace La Rue and Anna Wheaton Are the Favorites.

ALSO AT THE RIVERSIDE

'omedienne of "Oh. Boy" Plays Both Houses-Good Bill at New Brighton.

No vaudeville programme could fail to win popularity with three such stars as Clifton Crawford, Grace La Rue and Anna Wheaton on it and that is the situation at the Palace this week, where even the heat took second place to the stars aforementioned.

This is Crawford's second appearance at the Palace since he closed in Fancy Free," and he returned with a new assortment of everything with the exception of "Gunga Din," which is the protoplasm of his theatrical career. The comedian contributed a large share of the entertainment and even went so far as to carlcature one of those tenors who perform at semi-professional functions along with the poet who reads his own vers libre and the budding hemian who makes rarebit from air Miss La Rue has a different and welome way of singing, and her personal-ty, as projected over the footlights, is a bit more dainty than is usually seen. A clear voice and one that at times is resonant and charming, give her a place by herself. Her selections yesterday were not the usual sort of popular songs and not the la la of something nobody understands. She was refreshing and soothing.

Carroll a Lyric Cynic.

Miss Wheaton appears with Harry arroll, the composer, who has always seen able to inject philosophy, usually tinged with Broadway cynicism, into his compositions. They are a popular pair and were forced to give several encores. Miss Wheaton is as piquant as she was in "Oh Boy," and has a as she was in "Oh Boy," and has a pleasing way of singing, while Carroll has a rasping voice well suited to opular music. Tameo Kajiyama gave an interesting exhibition of concentration, writing, reading, and doing other things simul-taneously with more or less success: Clark and Hamilton were amusing in heir sketch that had the real Lunnon music hall flavor; Arthur Deagon gave stories and song; George Whiting and Sadle Burt, Bud Snyder and Company, and Percy Athon and Greta Reed were ters are Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. Perry, so the two families make up a large part of the bill. The New Brighton has Nan Halperin as the headline attraction. Miss Hal-perin appears in a character song cycle by William B. Friedlander. Paul Moron and Naomi Glass offer a new version of their matrimonial satire and a number of other good acts are also
